VARSITY LOSES GAME TO R. P. I.

Buff and Blue Defeated in Hard Fought Game by Trojan Warriors.

SCORE, 7 TO 0

Hamilton received her first setback of the season on Saturday at Troy when R. P. I. crossed the line for the first touchdown scored against the Buff and Blue this season and won by a score of 7-0. The teams were evenly matched in every department of the game, but in the third quarter a forward pass on a split formation which went for a touchdown brought about Hamilton's downfall. Hamilton had the ball in her possession the greater part of the game but lacked the final punch to put the ball across and score.

The Buff and Blue team did not show the dash and fight which was so evident in the game against N. Y. U. The line was slow in getting started, and the plays were broken up before they were fairly under way. However, on the defense Hamilton held the hard-hitting backfield of the Engineers, but a series of trick plays resulted in their undoing.

R. P. I.'s victory was due in a great part to Richards, their captain and center. He was the mainstay of the line, and was conspicuous in every play. He received the pass of the split formation, and after evading several tackles went over for a touchdown. Eller, the diminutive quarterback of the Troy aggregation, was the principal ground gainer for R. P. I. and put a great deal of fight in their team. For Hamilton the backfield worked well but were unable to make any great gains through the line. Hamilton was successful on only one forward pass. It occurred in the fourth quarter and brought the ball well into R. P. I. territory.

Hamilton Starts Well

Hamilton kicked off to R. P. I. at the opening of the game, and the Engineers were unable to gain. Sullivan intercepted a forward pass which gave Hamilton the ball on the thirty-yard line. The ball was carried within a few yards of the goal, but R. P. I. prevented further gain by a stone-wall defense. Captain Gorman dropped back for a trial at a field goal, but the kick was unsuccessful. This was Hamilton's last opportunity to score. During the rest of the period the ball remained in Hamilton's hands the greater part of the time, but the Buff and Blue were unable to come within scoring distance.

In the play of the second period R. P. I. had the advantage. The lone touchdown came in the third quarter. Eller broke through on an end run for twenty-five yards, and on a trick formation Richards took a forward pass

ANNOUNCE SCHOLASTIC HONORS OF PAST YEAR

Six Men Receive Phi Beta Kappa—Yates, Candidate for Maynard Prize.

STUART, FOR BROCKWAY

The following scholastic honors were announced by President Ferry in chapel last Friday morning:

High honor, honor and credit for the years 1918-1918. Freshman Entrance Prizes—The Maynard prize going to Yates; the Brockway Prize to Stuart, and the Fayerweather Scholarships to Coe, Stuart, and Yates.

In the class of 1920, the following men received the Phi Beta Kappa key: Couper, Gorman, Meritt, Thompson, Thorp, and Turner. High honor went to Couper, Meritt, and Thorp. Honor to D'Amico, Gorman, Kaiser, Rice, Rosenthal, Thompson, and Turner. And credit to Barnett, Beeman, Cairns, Covey, Elliott, Foss, Jewett, MacLachlan, Neff, Ritterbush, and Salbitano.

In the class of 1921, high honor went to Fry and Rodgers, honor to Campbell, Finnegan, Forshay, Gapp, Hopkins, Kaiser, Keehn, Lopardo, Mathewson, Pierce, Throop, Weller, and Wettel. Credit to Barron, Bartlett, Coupe, Cowan, Jennings, King, McVay, May, Reid, and Van Kennan.

WRITING ENGLISH

The honor system in Writing English, which was inaugurated for the first time this year, is now being used in all classes in Writing English conducted by Professors Rudd and Fancher and also in declamations where the work is supposed to be original. Professor Rudd has made a rule that on all themes must be this declaration: "I have not incorporated the work of any other person in this theme without enclosing the same in quotation marks." Professors Lewis and Fancher require a similar declaration on all original work.

—Dr. Dale's geology 1-2 class went on a field trip to Prospect Hill Wednesday afternoon.

COLLEGE TRUSTEES GATHER FOR FALL BUSINESS SESSION

Three Gifts to Institution Announced--Elihu Root '64 Establishes New Fellowship in Science

The fall meeting of the Trustees was held last Saturday in Truax Hall. The College was the recipient of three gifts: A $12000 bequest from Elihu Root, for the purpose of establishing a new fellowship in science; the Hastings house donated by Charles B. Rogers, and an extensive collection of books by Clinton Scollard.

The following Trustees were present: Hon. Elihu Root, George E. Dunham, Rev. M. Woolsey Stryker, Alexander C. Soper, H. H. Benedict, Samuel F. Engs, Charles B. Rogers, A. E. Blackmar, J. I. France, R. L. Maynard, Joseph Rudd, Rev. L. G. Colson, Henry M. Andrews, Rev. Arthur S. Hoyt, W. M. Bristol, Thomas R. Proctor, Daniel Burke, President F. C. Ferry, Warren I. Lee, Robert W. Pomeroy, Charlemagne Tower, Edward S. Babcock.

The session was opened by a prayer by Arthur S. Hoyt, '72. This was followed by the presentation and reading of the excuses of the two or three Trustees who for various causes were absent from the meeting. A communication from the Alumni Council was also read.

President Ferry gave a report on the number of men now enrolled in the four classes. The total attendance was placed at 297 which is the largest enrollment that the College has known. President Ferry also reported that the new professors were in the college and conducting their classes regularly. He also stated that the next issue of the Bulletin would contain the names of the Hamilton men, graduates and undergraduates, at participated in the war, together with a record of their service. The discussion at the college dinner pertaining to the memorial for the men from this college who lost their lives in service was acted upon. It is proposed to erect a bronze tablet in the Chapel which is to contain the names of the men. The idea is to have the tablet plain and simple but suitable for a lasting record of their sacrifice.

A discussion of the water supply followed and it was determined to construct an additional reservoir. By this it is hoped to make the supply of water sufficient to meet the increasing demand. The present condition of the Clinton water supply makes this action of noteworthy importance to the College. The village water is so low in the reservoirs that the citizens are allowed water for two hours in the morning only.

The summer school which was suspended during the war was definitely abandoned after a lengthy discussion. There will be no further sessions.

Another matter that was brought up was the necessity of increasing the number of instructors in the English and Public Speaking departments. The large number of students now enrolled makes the present number of instructors unable to cope with the situation. The matter was passed upon and the number of instructors will be increased to meet the demand.

Reporting for the Committee on Buildings and Grounds, Senator Root presented several ideas and plans for future development, involving the erection of new buildings as well as the remodelling of old ones.

Announcement was made that Charles B. Rogers had purchased the Hastings house on the Bristol Road and had donated it to the College as a part of the P. V. Rogers foundation. The house will be occupied by the professor holding that chair. The $12,000 presented by Elihu Root was for the purpose of founding a fellowship in science which was to be offered to the member of the senior class who showed the most proficiency in science. The collection of books presented to the Library by Clinton Scollard was a valuable and extensive one.

The Trustees adopted resolutions expressing the appreciation and gratitude of that body to the generous donors.

CALL COMMONS COMMITTEE

Two meetings of the Commons Committee were called by Chairman Richard Kaiser, '20, within the last week but as yet no business has been transacted. This committee has as its object the control of conditions in Commons under the supervision of President Ferry and Mrs. King, and is supposed to comprise an upperclassman from each of the crowds eating in Commons. It is desired that those crowds who have not yet delegated a man to serve on this committee do so at once, and that the men delegated attend the next meeting of the committee called.

—Sherwood S. Peckham of New Rochelle, N. Y., entered college recently, having transferred from Williams.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Whipple of Hartford, Conn., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marion Elizabeth Whipple, to Kenneth T. Mackay of New Rochelle, a graduate of Hamilton College in the class of 1915 and a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. Miss Whipple is a member of the 1918 class at Wellesley.

NINE cases out of ten, the man who once smokes a W D C Pipe becomes a life member of the W D C club. He can't help it, because a W D C is certainly a man's size smoke. It's as sweet and mellow as carefully selected French briar and expert seasoning can make it. Not only material of the first water, but craftsmanship of the highest order, and designs that are most pleasing—all combine to make the W D C Pipe a smoke of peace, contentment and satisfaction. Football

The Buff and Blue defeat at the hands of R. P. I. must be taken in the right spirit. It is still early in the season and it must be remembered that Captain Gorman's men were not outplayed. They fought hard and met defeat squarely.

We were entirely too confident, too sure of ourselves. The result should and will be a tonic for future success. The game with Williams is our next worry and it is decidedly a big one, being probably the hardest battle the varsity will have to go through this season. Captain Boynton and his Williams warriors think, as a result of the game Saturday, that the game with the "Boys from Clinton" is already in their won column. But as in the past, reversals have often taken place and the issue next Saturday is very much in doubt. The scrapping spirit that has many times snatched seemingly hopeless defeats from the fire as victories, is going to be in evidence next Saturday at Williamstown.

Coach Prettyman and Captain Gorman have set their shoulders to the wheel, backed by their entire squad. The R. P. I. game only makes them more eager and determined for the coming encounter. The College Body can have a part in the good work. Appear Every Afternoon for Football Practice, watch how things are going, and accompany the team to Williamstown if at all possible!

It is rumored that our signals are known to other teams. If there is a traitor in our midst, it is the duty of the College Body to find him and deal with him as he should be dealt with. If strangers appear at practice, or are seen suspiciously hanging around the gym or football field, first find out who they are and then gently ask them to retire. It is not clean sportsmanship to steal signals and the man who betrays his own college loses one great asset to manhood. He is a traitor and we don't need his type here on the Hill. If this report be true, the College Body has a duty to perform.

HAMLIN BEGINS WORK AT YALE-IN-CHINA

Finds Life Busy but Interesting and Plans Happy Time in Distant Orient.

MARVELS AT CHINESE CITY

Paul M. Hamlin, '19, Hamilton's representative at the College of Yalin-China, arrived at Changsha on Satuurday, August 30, 1919, and two days later wrote to President Ferry, reporting his safe arrival and the pleasant trip up the Yang-tze-kiang River into the interior of China. From the extract quoted below, it is obvious that he is hard at work and his two years out in Central China, near the zone of civil war, will no doubt be full and eventful.

Under date of September 1, 1919, Hamlin writes as follows: "My stay in China has been so short that I shall not pass sentence upon them (the natives) at this time. I have been particularly struck with the immense amount of work that is done by hand. Also you would never again wish to be transported back to the good old days if you should once see one of these Chinese cities. I do not believe that there is anything to beat them on this earth. They are horrible in many ways.

"I shall have about twenty-three hours of teaching a week, aside from my work in athletics and other student activities. Thus I shall be quite busy, but I know that I shall enjoy it."

Whether the last statement is sincere or not, at any rate no one at Hamilton will envy Paul's job. We certainly can sympathize, however.

—Lewis S. Collins, '18, is a cost department clerk with the Massey-Harris Harvester Company of Batavia, N. Y.

—Ernest S. Griffiths, '17, who was for the greater part of last year, teacher of Civics in the Utica Free Academy, sailed in July for England to take up his work as a Rhodes Scholar at Oxford University.

GEO. S. WEBSTER, '87 PREACHES IN UTICA

"SAILOR IN PEACE AND WAR"

Rev. George Sidney Webster, D.D., Hamilton '78, spoke at the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Utica on Sunday evening, October 19. Dr. Webster was in the same class as the late Vice President Sherman. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, valedictorian of his class, and is now secretary of his class.

Rev. Webster has been connected with the American Friends Society and is now secretary of that organization. As its representative he spoke of the manner in which the society has cared for the merchant sailor in the years which it had been in active work. His topic was "The Sailor in Peace and War."

After his graduation from Hamilton, Dr. Webster spent a year as an instructor in Greek at the Whitestown Seminary. Having decided to make the ministry his life's work, he accepted the pastorship of the Church of the Covenant in New York City. The pastorship of this church enabled him to get in close touch with the sailors of the port and led him to investigate their modes of life and the ways in which they could be improved upon.

Dd. Webster came to Utica as the guest of Rev. J. Howard Hobbs, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church.

WITH THE COLLEGES

Fifteen Chinese students have been enrolled at Syracuse University, including one professor and one girl. After the completion of their course they will return to China to act as professors in the American missionary colleges.

—During an interclass rush at Colgate University at the opening of the Fall Term, one of the members of the Freshman Class was accidentally drowned in Lake Moraine while attempting to swim to the mainland from an island on which he had been marooned by a band of sophomores. Though the catastrophe was the fault of no one, it is probable that interclass rushes at that institution will be discontinued at least for this year.

Columbia University has enrolled over twenty thousand students for this year. The majority of these have been admitted under the new system of psychological tests.

In the "Salt Rush" held at the opening of the fall term the St. Lawrence freshmen defeated the sophomores in three hard fought battles. Of the freshman class only twenty-four men were downed to twenty-eight men from the sophomore class. The rush was conducted under upperclassman supervision on the campus. During the fray, E. L. Manning of New Jersey was injured in the lung.

"Pete" Reynolds, former head coach of the Buff and Blue is now drillmaster of the Bucknell University football team.

He drew himself up straight and tall,
An attitude becomin'.
Sez he, "The lesson I'll translate—"
And there he stopped to smile;
For there were trustees comin' late,

In olden days, it didn't go
To come to chapel late;
And at the present time we know
It's hard to tolerate.
At nine o'clock we find that some

That's proof our chapel ought to come

In the fourth quarter Kaiser threw a pass to Lawler for a large gain, and the ball was Hamilton's on the thirty-five yard line of the Cherry and White. The ball was being steadily advanced, but the whistle blew for the end of the game before Hamilton was close enough to score. With a few more minutes to play prospects of a Hamilton score would have been very bright.

When a man is thirty and married

This, in brief, is the business history of a good many thousand college men:

THEY make rather successful starts in business; for the first few years their progress seems entirely satisfactory to them. They are unmarried, independent, and their incomes are ample for their individual needs.

Then they marry, and in their early thirties the conviction comes to them that they are not making as rapid progress as they ought.

The expenditure crowds ever closer to the income; they see men passing them, sometimes unaccountably; the job that had seemed hardly more than a game before, becomes suddenly a serious problem—often never fully solved.

The solution of 75,000 successful men

It is at that period, and at that age, that college men turn in large numbers to the Alexander Hamilton Institute.

The average age of the 75,000 men enrolled in the Institute's Modern Business Course and Service in the past ten years is over thirty; eighty-five per cent of them are married.

In other words they are no longer boys, but men, realizing keenly that the highest positions in business are open only to men who have an all-round knowledge of the fundamentals that underly all business; and that such knowledge is gained only by training.

That the Alexander Hamilton Institute can and does give this training is proved by the record of the 75,000 successful men who have enrolled themselves in it.

Advisory Council

Read over these names of the men who make up the Advisory Council of the Institute:

Frank A Vanderlip. President of the National City Bank of New York; John Hayes Hammond, the eminent engineer; Jeremiah W. Jenks, the statistician and economist; General Coleman duPont, the well-known business executive, and Joseph French Johnson, Dean of the New York University School of Commerce.

13,000 of the 75,000 men who have enrolled with the Institute are corporation presidents—a testimony to the scope and authority of the Institute's Course and Service.

Investigation is easy

This advertisement is addressed to two classes of men. To young men first—intheir twenties and thirties and early forties—who are asking themselves "Where am I going to be in business ten years from now?" There is an answer to that question in "Forging Ahead in Business," the Institute's 112-page book. It is free; entirely without obligation; and well worth an evening of any man's time. Send for it.

The second man to whom this is addressed is the older alumnus, to whom young men are constantly coming for advice about their future. If you are such a man, you should know enough about the Institute to be able to speak helpfully concerning it; you should know what it has done for 75,000 other men.

Your name on the coupon will bring you "Forging Ahead in Business." Let us send you your copy now.

Carpe Diem

Pretty short column last week, so we will have to make up for the shortage by an extra amount of Carpe this week.

Our rival column, Spice, gave us an inspiration.

Matty Mattoon's Commandments.

1. Send that man to Hamilton who still wears clothes of the styles of 1914. Being up-to-date should be frowned upon and discouraged.
2. Travel and experience make one worldly wise, so bring to this college only those who have lived all their lives on the farm or in their little village.
3. Athletes should be sent elsewhere. We want them not here.
4. All homage to the greasy grind, who will have no interest in the college; bring him on by all means.
5. Throw up thy hands in horror if the man smokes cigarettes or possesses a knowledge of the world.
6. Gather up all the hay-makers, horse drivers, and milk feds, for they shall be called the sons of Hamilton.

We High Brows

We hate to say anything more about the Chi Psi brethren, but when Wy Cobb and Hank Severin come into Merz at 5 p. m. for tea, toast, and marmalade it must get in the records. Recalls a recent Hamiltonian scurf, "God made him a man, therefore let him pass."

Now that we have seen Grant Keehn in golf socks we suggest that he wear iron shoes this winter to prevent being blown off the campus.

Regarding Our Peers

Alumnus, back for first time in three years, looks at Prex: "Who's that guy, a confidence man or a gambler?"

Subtle, but understandable: Why is Prex like Al Reeves? Ans. Both make their living by figures. Note: Prex is a mathematician, Al Reeves runs a burlesque show.

Have you noticed how nobby Rocks looks since his marriage? Cutaway and gray trousers to chapel.

If they ever start another war in Europe the faculty will have to put a guard around Emerson Hall to keep that potpourri of nationalities pacific.

Discovered

At last we have discovered the value of a college education. George Dunham, editor of the Utica Press, offered a member of last year's class the princely sum of $12 a week, saying that, without his college course, he would receive only $10.

The Dekes want someone to come down and break up a few pieces of furniture now that Auf Schwartz has calmed down. The boys at the foot of the hill say that it doesn't seem natural.

D. U. initiation last week, and the annual attempt to borrow dress suits was again launched. Oh, well, they couldn't rent any that would be the right size.

The Freshman Class cannot contain very many athletes, as the D. U. Athletic Club took only five men.

Zip Griffith had his car here for a time. Witnesses state that one other brother got a ride. Justice our foundation.

Our idea of the worst pest in college is the bird who takes three glasses of "quarter to three" and then runs around blowing his breath in your face and borrowing Life Savers.

Readers, take notice. Four issues and nary a word about Supe nor Sky Brandt. As the critics would say, "Thank Gawd, for a novelty."

Doctors Prescribe John's Cascara Compound Tablets for Constipation

They have been prescribing them for years. Ask any prescription clerk... John's Cascara Compound Tablets are the ideal agent for overcoming habitual constipation. IDEAL because they contain no irritating cathartics which apply the whip to the intestines, weaken the system and end by aggravating the very condition they were intended to relieve.

The gentle, thorough, laxative effect of Johns' Cascara Compound Tablets is due entirely to Johns' concentrated and refined extract of Cascara Sagrada, the "sacred bark" of the Aztecs, who knew its value in correcting constipation—the source of so much sickness and discomfort.

They relieve flatulence, nausea, vertigo, water brash, constipation and loss of appetite. They remove greasiness and sallowness of the complexion. They are a most efficient remedy for bilious attacks and sick headaches.

A Johns' Cascara Compound Tablet taken at night insures in the morning a natural and complete evacuation of the bowel contents. The continued use of Johns' Cascara Compound Tablets can be nothing but beneficial. Price, 25 cents.

FROSH VICTORS IN BASEBALL

Win from Sophs by Score of 7 to 4—Result Shows Good Material Among Frosh.

SOPH ERRORS, COSTLY

The Freshman Baseball Team defeated the Sophomores 7-4 in a fast game on Steuben Field Tuesday afternoon. Both teams played good ball for the small amount of practice they had been able to have. The losers showed up well at the bat but failure to bring in men on bases prevented them from coming out on the long end of the score.

Perry held the Slimer aggregation to six scattered hits but his support was weak, and he received poor backing in the pinches. Daniels was Captain Crane's choice to do the slab work for the Frosh. He lasted but five ninings against the big sticks of the Sophomores anod then retired in favor of Doane. The Sophomores found the offerings of the latter a bit more puzzling and were only able to gather in three hits in the remaining four innings.

The Sophomores took the lead in their half of the first. After two were out, Davis was passed and stole second. Brandt followed with a single, scoring Davis. Smith flied out and retired the side. The Frosh came back strong in the second inning, bringing in a run and touching up Perry for three hits. The victors scored again in the third but the Sophomores came back in the fourth with a batting rally which netted three runs. From the fourth inning on the Sophs were powerless to score, although they frequently got men on bases. Aided by passes an errors in the Soph infield, the Slimers scored once in each of the remaining innings.

PREX AT DARTMOUTH

President Frederick C. Ferry attended the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Dartmouth College yesterday and the day before. Dr. Ferry left the Hill Saturday afternoon after the Trustee meeting in the morning and spoke on Sunday at the Dartmouth exercises. Besides Dr. Ferry, another member of the Faculty was also present. Professor Albro D. Morrill, Stone Professor of Biology at Hamilton College for many years, was graduated from Dartmouth with the Class of 1876, at which time he received his B. Sc. degree. Three years later an M.S. was conferred on him by the same institution, and in 1885 Belmont College gave him an M.A.

RUSSEL MILLER, '22, IS ACCIDENT VICTIM

Injured in Collision With Automobile—Pirnie, '23, His Companion, Escapes.

LEG BADLY BROKEN

Russell Miller, of the class of 1922, was quite seriously injured in an accident in which his motorcycle ran into an automobile at Oneida Square in Utica. Daryl Pirnie, '23, who was on the rear of the motorcycle was not injured with the exception of a few bruises.

Miller was proceeding along Genesee street at Oneida Square when an automobile going toward Clinton and on the wrong side of the street, instead of turning to the right side of the street continued on its way, making a collision unavoidable. Miller was thrown over the handle bars, suffering a fracture of the leg. Pirnie fell to one side of the machine. The motorcycle was wrecked, the front wheel being completely smashed and the rest of the machine being put out of order.

After the accident, Miller explained the circumstances to the patrolman who had arrived on the scene. While talking and waiting for an automobile to take him to the hospital, Miller stood on one leg without emitting any complaints of pain. He was taken to the hospital to have his leg set and then to his home in Utica.

The break is a serious one and it may be several months before it heals well enough to allow him to return to college. Miller came to the Hill for the first time this fall. He spent part of his time last year at Dartmouth and the rest at Colgate, from where he transferred this fall, entering up with the class of 1922.

PREPARE FOR WILLIAMS GAME

New Englanders Have Strong Team With Boynton as Individual Star.

BUFF AND BLUE AT WORK

The referee's whistle next Saturday will send Hamilton and Willliams crashing together in a game that promises to be one of the hardest that Coach Prettyman's men will have to face this season. The Buff and Blue will invade Williamstown on even terms with Williams so far as victories and defeats are concerned.

The game will undoubtedly be close and the issue a matter of chance. Both teams are playing good football this season as has been exhibited in the games of the forepart of their respective schedules. The odds now stand slightly in favor of the New Englanders. However, the Buff and Blue warriors can be counted upon to be in the game every minute and they have promised to recross the Hudson with another scalp in their possession.

Football enthusiasts in Schenectady are reported to have their eyes focussed on the game Saturday, for they claim that on its score will hinge the result of the Hamilton-Union game.

The Hamilton backfield has exhibited its line-smashing power this season and Coach Prettyman depends on it to make consistent gains against Williams' hitherto stonewall defense. With Pape, Peck, Kaiser, Johnson, Schwartz, and Sullivan to choose from the offensive part of the game should be well taken care of.

Captain Gorman from his post at right tackle has always been a strong factor on the line and has always exerted a steadying influence on the Buff and Blue defense. At more times than one a well placed kick from his toe has added a few more points to Hamilton's score. The line will be strong and will prove a difficult obstacle to all Williams' offensive work.

Williams Strong

The Williams eleven also knows football and have so far generally come through with the right plays at the right minute. In the Columbia game last Saturday straight football was played—line plunges and punts. A shift play was worked by Williams several times with success.

The man whom Hamilton fears the most and who will bear the closest watching is Captain Boynton, the All-American quarterback of 1917. Against Columbia, he played a spectacular game and on one occasion, ran ninety yards for a touchdown from the kick-off, and proved himself a wizard at dodging in the open field. In the same game he added a seventy-five yard run to his credit. Not only is he a sure ground gainer, but he has shown great skill in directing the Williams attack and has been impassable in the secondary defense.

Williams also possesses such reliable men as Hibbard, Kreiger, and Burger in the backfield, and Lasell and Farge on the line.

CHARLATANS ORGANIZE PLANS FOR BUSY SEASON

Under Leadership of W. W. Thorp, '20—Professor Fancher to Coach.

TO GIVE THREE-ACT PLAY

At a recent meeting of the Charlatans, the following officers were elected: President, W. W. Thorp, '20, vice-president, A. B. Clark, '21, custodian, D. S. Getman, '22. Work was begun immediately on plans which will make for a more efficient organization. The old constitution is being revised, and such new items added as the changes in the policy of the Charlatans demand.

The manager is preparing for a trip, which possibly will take place during the holidays. As now planned, the play taken will be one of three acts, for which try-outs will soon be held. One-act dramas will be given during the year, including, probably, some original work by undergraduates, with a bill of representative plays at the Commencement performance.

The reorganization, it is hoped, will enlarge the scope of the Club, induce more undergraduates to become active members in it, by their acting, artistic work, stage managing, and by other methods which will obtain membership in the organization. Competition will soon be open for some new offices which are provided for under the projected constitution.

—An Oak Park Club has been formed by the following men for the purpose of supplying the high school with college publications and literature: Willard Johnson, '20, Schuyler Brandt, '20, Wilbur Brandt, '22, John Willard, '23.

—Carl L. Carmer, '14, has returned to the University of Rochester as instructor in English.

—Lieut. Leet W. Bissell, '15, and Mrs. Bissell are making a tour of the far East, including Japan and China.

—Francis P. Kimball, '16, is a newspaper reporter for the "Sun," located at 150 Nassau street, New York City.

—William P. Welsh is engaged in the insurance business with offices in the Security Mutual Building, Binghamton, N. Y.
